

Chairs & Speakers

Session I: South China Sea Arbitration: Its Legal Implication (I)

Nigel N. T. Li (Chair)

Nigel Li received LL.M. degrees from Harvard in 1983 and National Taiwan University in 1980, after obtaining an LL.B. degree from Soochow University in 1977. In addition to his role as a practicing attorney specializing in dispute resolution and arbitration, media law, human and civil rights, international litigation and constitutional law, he is also an adjunct professor at both the Graduate School of Law of Soochow University and the Department of Political Science of National Taiwan University. He teaches Constitutional Law, Human Rights, ADR and International Arbitration.

Serving as Chairman of the Chinese Arbitration Association, Taipei from 2007 to 2014, Nigel has made considerable effort in raising the quality of transnational arbitration and has contributed greatly to cross-strait and international exchanges. At the same time, he is also registered as an arbitrator of The Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, the Hong Kong International Arbitration Centre and the China International Economic and Trade Arbitration Commission.

Over the years, Nigel has dedicated himself to pro bono work. He has served as President of the Taipei Bar Association and now sits on the Board of the Judicial Reform Foundation. His determination to preserve human rights and justice has led to his ardent involvement in numerous cases applying for the Grand Justices' interpretation of the Constitution and his appointment as a Member of the Presidential Advisory Committee on Human Rights.

Education

LL.M., Harvard (1983)

LL.M., National Taiwan University (1980)

LL.B., Soochow University (1977)

Professional

Former President, Taipei Bar Association

Adjunct Professor, Soochow University, Graduate School of Law

Adjunct Professor, National Taiwan University, The Graduate Institute of Political Science

Honorary Chairman, Chinese Arbitration Association, Taipei

President, Chinese (Taiwan) Society of International Law

Member, Presidential Advisory Committee on Human Rights

Tel: +886-2-2715-3300 ext. 2380

Fax: +886-2-2713-3966

E-Mail: nigelli@leeandli.com

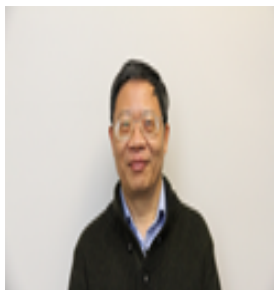

Ted L. McDorman (Speaker)

Ted L. McDorman is a Professor at the Faculty of Law, University of Victoria, Victoria, British Columbia, Canada. He has written widely on ocean law and policy issues having published over 130 articles, chapters in books, etc. From 1984 to 2002, Professor McDorman was part of the CIDA/IDRC funded Southeast Project on Ocean Law, Policy and Management (SEAPOL) centered in Bangkok, Thailand.

Since 2000, he has been editor-in-chief of Ocean Development and International Law. From 2002-2004 and again from 2011 to 2013, Professor McDorman was “academic-in-residence” in the Legal Affairs Branch of the Canadian Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade (now called Global Affairs Canada) where he was involved in a number of Arctic, law of the sea and environmental matters and represented Canada at several international forums. From January-May 2007, he was the Fulbright Visiting Chair in Canada-U.S. Relations at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars in Washington D.C.

Publications of note include:

- Co-editor with Nien-Tsu Alfred Hu, Maritime Issues in the South China Sea: Troubled Waters or A Sea of Opportunity (London and New York: Routledge, 2013), 178 p.
- “Rights and Jurisdiction over Resources in the South China Sea: UNCLOS and the ‘Nine-Dash Line’” in S. Jayakumar, Tommy Koh and Robert Beckman, eds., The South China Dispute and Law of the Sea (Northampton: Edward Elgar, 2014), pp. 144-163.
- “The South China Sea: The U-Shaped Line, Islands and the Philippine-China Arbitration” (2013), 56 German Yearbook of International Law 33-62.
- “Continental Shelf,” in D.R. Rothwell, Alex G. Oude Elferink, K. Scott and T. Stephens, eds., The Oxford Handbook of the Law of the Sea (Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2015), pp. 181-202.

Keyuan Zou (Speaker)

Keyuan ZOU is Harris Professor of International Law at the Lancashire Law School of the University of Central Lancashire (UCLan), United Kingdom. He specializes in international law, in particular law of the sea and international environmental law. Before joining UCLan, he worked at Dalhousie University (Canada), Peking University (China), University of Hannover (Germany) and National University of Singapore.

He has published over 60 refereed English papers in over 30 international journals including Asian Yearbook of International Law, Asia-Pacific Journal of Environmental Law, Chinese Journal of International Law, Columbia Journal of International Affairs, Criminal Law Forum, German Yearbook of International Law, International Journal of Marine and Coastal Law,

International Lawyer, Journal of Environmental Law, Journal of International Maritime Law, Journal of International Wildlife Law and Policy, Journal of Maritime Law and Commerce, Lloyd's Maritime and Commercial Law Quarterly, Marine Policy, Maritime Policy and Management, Netherlands International Law Review, Ocean Development and International Law, Ocean Yearbook, Singapore Journal of International and Comparative Law, Ocean and Coastal Management and Yearbook Law and Legal Practice in East Asia.

His single-authored books include Law of the Sea in East Asia: Issues and Prospects (London/New York: Routledge, 2005), China's Marine Legal System and the Law of the Sea (Leiden/Boston: Martinus Nijhoff, 2005), China's Legal Reform: Towards the Rule of Law (Leiden/Boston: Martinus Nijhoff, 2006), and China-ASEAN Relations and International Law (Oxford: Chandos, 2009). His recent co-edited volumes include Securing the Safety of Navigation in East Asia (Oxford: Chandos, 2013), Non-traditional Security Issues and the South China Sea (Ashgate, 2014), Arbitration concerning the South China Sea: Philippines v. China (Ashgate, 2016).

He is member of Editorial Boards of the International Journal of Marine and Coastal Law (Martinus Nijhoff), Ocean Development and International Law (Taylor & Francis), Journal of International Wildlife Law and Policy (Taylor & Francis), Copenhagen Journal of Asian Studies (Copenhagen Business School), Journal of Territorial and Maritime Studies (Northeast Asian History Foundation), Asia-Pacific Security and Maritime Affairs (Nanjing University), and Chinese Journal of International Law (Oxford University Press), and Advisory Boards of the Chinese Oceans Law Review (Hong Kong: China Review Culture Limited), Global Journal of Comparative Law (Brill), Asia-Pacific Journal of Ocean Law and Policy (Brill), and Korean Journal of International & Comparative Law (Brill).

Yann-huei Song (Speaker)

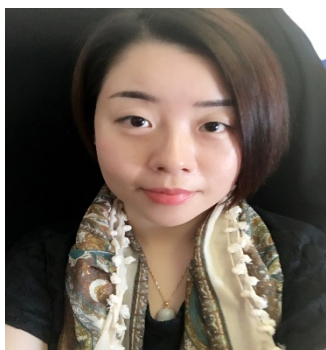

Dr. Yann-huei Song is currently a research fellow in the Institute of European and American Studies, Academia Sinica, Taipei, Taiwan, the Republic of China. Dr. Song received his M.S. in Political Science from Indiana State University, Indiana; Ph.D. in International Relations from Kent State University, Ohio; L.L.M. and J.S.D. from the School of Law (Boalt Hall), University of California, Berkeley, the United States. He has broad academic interests covering ocean law and policy studies, international fisheries law, international environmental law, maritime security, and maritime disputes in the East and South China Seas. Dr. is a member of the editorial boards of Ocean Development and International Law and Chinese (Taiwan) Yearbook of International Law and Affairs. Two of his most recent publications are: A Collection of Essays on American Ocean Law and Policy (Angle Publishing Co., Ltd., April 2016) and The United States and Maritime Disputes in the South China Sea (Angle Publishing Co., Ltd., April 2016).

Jay L. Batongbacal (Speaker)

Jay L. Batongbacal holds degrees in Political Science and Law, as well as advanced degrees of Master of Marine Management and Doctor in the Science of Law. Since 1997, he has done diverse work and widely published in maritime affairs, including community based fisheries management, coastal resource management, marine environment protection, maritime boundaries, high seas fishing, offshore energy, seafaring, and shipping. He has also conducted, upon request, many briefings and submitted opinions to various government offices, such as the Office of the President, the Department of Foreign Affairs, Department of National Defense, National Security Council, Cabinet Committee on Maritime and Ocean Affairs, the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives, the Committee on National Defense of the Philippine Senate, among others. He remains actively involved with both government and non-government organization on many different issues involving a maritime component, including the mining and petroleum industries.

Mr. Batongbacal was legal advisor to the Philippine delegation that successfully pursued the Philippines' claim to a continental shelf beyond 200 nautical miles in the Benham Rise Region before the Commission on the Limits of the Continental Shelf in accordance with the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea (UNCLOS). He is currently assisting the Philippines in making an application to the International Maritime Organization for the designation of a Particularly Sensitive Sea Area in the Sulu Sea. He is also on his second term on the UNESCO List of Experts on Marine Scientific Research for purposes of Special Arbitration under UNCLOS Annex VIII. He recently completed research on US maritime security policy and the South China Sea disputes under the auspices of the US-ASEAN Fulbright Initiative Visiting Scholar Program. Presently, he serves as an Associate Professor at the University of the Philippines College of Law, and concurrently Director of the Institute for Maritime Affairs and Law of the Sea of the U.P. Law Center.

Wu Wei

Born in March 30, 1983

Current Positions :

Lecturer, China Institute of Boundary and Ocean Studies, Wuhan University, Wuhan, China (since September, 2014)

Education:

Ph.D in Law, Wuhan University China Institute of Boundary and Ocean Studies , in Maritime

Law (July, 2014).Dissertation topic: “Artificial Island building in International Law”.

Education Highlights:

International Law, Linguistics, Teaching methodology, Legal Methodology, Modern International Relations, Legal History, Dispute settlement, Maritime Law, Legal English.

Optional Coursework:

Computer Network and Internet, Chinese Philosophy, British Literature, American Literature, Social Psychology, Ethics.

Languages:

Mandarin Chinese (native), English (master degree in Linguistics), IELTS 7.5(writing 6.5), French (basic).

International Conferences and other experience:

Attended (International Boundary Research Unit (IBRU) Conference in Durham University in the UK. (Mar.2009)

Attended The Hague Academy for International Law, Public International Law Session. (Aug. 2009)

Erasmus Mundus Programme scholarship, Visiting Scholar to Deusto University, Law School in Spain. Co-teaching and giving lectures about Chinese Legal System (Sept. 2010).

Visiting Fellow, Lauterpacht Centre of International Law, Cambridge University (Sept. 2013).

Worked on Maritime Law, on Ocean governance before and after delimitation in East China Sea from Chinese perspective.

Attended Seminar on the South China Sea Arbitration and the International Rule of Law, in Hague, Netherlands. (June. 2016)

Awards and Scholarships:

Erasmus Mundus Programme scholarship. (Sept. 2010)

Best teacher in WTO Studies School (October 2010)

Publications

“International Law research Methodology Based on Maritime Law.”-----Chinese International Law Conference Yearbook, 2010.

“Legal analysis of Japan and China Ship Collision issue in the Senkaku Island area”, Government Report, 2011.

“The Evolution of China’s Codification of PIL”, Co-author with Guoyong Zou, 2012, Currently Underway of publication in the Journal of Polish Private International Law.

“Are the International Human Rights Treaties Exceptional in Compliance? The Evidence from China, Co-author with Bo Ma from CUNY Graduate Center”, USA, 2013, Currently Underway.

“Research on the legal regime of Artificial Island in UNCLOS”, Hubei Social Science Journal, China, 2014.

“The Definition and the Analysis of Artificial Islands in UNCLOS”, Journal of Wuhan University of Technology, China, 2014.

“Research on the Legal Evolution of Artificial Islands -----from the Codification History of United Nations Convention on the Law of Sea”, Journal of Wuhan University, China, 2014.

“The United Nations and China's Contribution to Development of the Post-war International Order for Seventy Years”, Co-author with Professor Yu Minyou, 2015.

DID UNCLOS PRESERVE CHINA’S ANCESTRAL FISHING FREEDOMS AT SEA? An

Inquiry into the International Law basis of the Nine Dash Line as a ‘Historic Rights’ Line in the context of the South China Sea Arbitration (Philippines v. China) Case , Translation, Journal of Bunday and Ocean Studies, 2016.

Self-evaluation

Honest, loyal, responsible, hard-working,

Enthusiastic, optimistic, cooperative and patient;

A modest and quick learner, I enjoy challenges,

I like reading, fashion and music.

Session II: South China Sea Arbitration: Its Legal Implication (II)

Wu Shichun (Chair)

President

National Institute for South China Sea studies

Wu Shichun has a PhD in history and is president and senior research fellow of China's National Institute for South China Sea Studies, deputy director of the Collaborative Innovation Center of South China Sea Studies, Nanjing University, and member of Foreign Policy Advisory Group of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of China.

Dr Wu's research interests cover the history and geography of the South China Sea, maritime delimitation, maritime economy, international relations and regional security strategy. His main single-authored books include What One Needs to Know about the Disputes between China and the Philippines (Current Affairs Press, 2015), What One Needs to Know about the South China Sea (Current Affairs Press, 2015), Solving Disputes for Regional Cooperation and Development in the South China Sea: A Chinese perspective (Woodhead Publishing, 2013). His main edited books include: Arbitration Concerning the South China Sea: Philippines versus China (Routledge, 2016), UN Convention on the Law of the Sea and the South China Sea (Ashgate, 2015), Non-Traditional Security Issues and the South China Sea-Shaping a New Framework for Cooperation (Ashgate, 2014), Recent Developments in the South China Sea Dispute: The Prospect of a Joint Development Regime (Routledge, 2014). Dr Wu has published widely in academic journals and been the subject of frequent media interviews as a senior commentator on South China Sea, and other regional security issues.

Warwick Gullett (Speaker)

Professor Warwick Gullett was Deputy Director of the Australian National Centre for Ocean Resources and Security (ANCORS) prior to being appointed Dean of Law at the University of Wollongong in 2012. His research interests focus on legal protection of the marine environment and the international law of the sea. He is the author of Fisheries Law in Australia (335pp, LexisNexis Butterworths, 2008) and co-editor of Asia-Pacific and the Implementation of the Law of the Sea: Regional Legislative and Policy Approaches to the Law of the Sea Convention (230pp, Brill/Nijhoff, 2016) and Marine Resources Management (359pp, LexisNexis Butterworths, 2011). Professor Gullett is Current Legal Developments Editor for the Asia-Pacific Journal of Ocean Law and Policy.

Professor Gullett has written extensively on laws regarding the marine environment, in particular focusing on fisheries law, marine protected areas, marine resource management and jurisdictional issues. His work has been cited by the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea, Commonwealth Administrative Appeals Tribunal, NSW Land and Environment Court and the South Australian Environment Resources and Development Court. He currently supervises 9 PhD students and has supervised 7 PhD students to completion (3 domestic students, 2 from China and one each from Brazil and Fiji). He holds degrees in Law and Geography from Monash University (1997) and a PhD from the Australian National University (2002).

Recent publications include:

- ‘Anchors Away? The Impacts of Anchor Scour by Ocean-Going Vessels and Potential Response Options’ (2017) Marine Policy (accepted 3 July 2016) (with Andy Davis, Clive Schofield, Allison Broad, James Reveley, Chantal Sanders)
- ‘Reconciliation in the Timor Sea: Progress by Australia and Timor Leste Towards Amicable Development of Offshore Resources’, (2016) 4 Korean Journal of International and Comparative Law 99-112.
- ‘Fisheries and Aquatic Ecosystems’ in Peter Williams (ed), The Environmental Law Handbook: Planning and Land Use in NSW (Thomson Reuters, 6th ed, 2016) 887-928.
- ‘Cooperative Maritime Surveillance and Enforcement’, in Robin Warner and Stuart Kaye (eds), Routledge Handbook of Maritime Regulation and Enforcement (Routledge, 2015) 378-393 (with Yubing Shi).

Nong Hong (Speaker)

Dr. Nong HONG heads the Institute for China-America Studies (ICAS), an independent, non-profit academic institution based in Washington D.C. She also holds a joint position of research fellow with China Institute, University of Alberta (CIUA), National Institute for South China Sea Studies (NISCSS), and the China Center for Collaborated Studies on the South China Sea, Nanjing University. Dr. Hong received her PhD of interdisciplinary study of international law and international relations from the University of Alberta, Canada and held a Postdoctoral Fellowship in the University's China Institute. She was ITLOS-Nippon Fellow for International Dispute Settlement (2008-2009), and Visiting Fellow at the Center of Oceans Law and Policy, University of Virginia (2009) and at the Max Planck Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law (2007).

Her research takes an interdisciplinary approach to examining international relations and international law, with focus on International Relations and Comparative Politics in general; ocean governance in East Asia; law of the sea; international security, particularly non-traditional security; and international dispute settlement and conflict resolution. Her most recent publications include UNCLOS and Ocean Dispute Settlement: Law and Politics in the South China Sea, (Abingdon, New York: Routledge, 2012); UN Convention on the Law of the Sea and the South China Sea, co-edited with Wu Shicun and Mark Valencia (Surrey: Ashgate, 2015), Recent developments in the South China Sea dispute, co-edited with Wu Shicun (Routledge, 2014); Maritime Security Issues in the South China Sea and the Arctic: Sharpened Competition or Collaboration? Co-edited with Gordon Houlden (Beijing: China Democracy and Legal System Publishing House, 2012); “Face-Off in the South China Sea: Conflict or Compromise?” in National Interest, April 16 2015; “Emerging interests of non-Arctic countries in the Arctic: a Chinese perspective”, Polar Journal, 2014; “China’s Newly Formed Coast Guard and its Implication for Regional Maritime Disputes”, Ocean Yearbook. Vol. 28, 2013; “The Energy Factor in the Arctic Dispute: a Pathway to Conflict or Cooperation?” in the Journal of World Energy Law & Business (Oxford Journal), January 2012; ‘The Melting Arctic and Its Impact on China’s Maritime Transport’, Research in Transportation Economics, Volume 35, Issue 1, May 2012. Full CV at <http://chinaus-icas.org/hongnong>

Seokwoo Lee (Speaker)

PROF. SEOKWOO LEE (D.PHIL.)

INHA UNIVERSITY LAW SCHOOL, KOREA

E-mail: leeseokwoo@inha.ac.kr

Seokwoo LEE is Professor of International Law, Inha University Law School, Korea (2003-present), where he is also working as Director of Inha Int’l Ocean Law Centre. He was Vice Dean for External Affairs, Inha University Law School (2009; 2012-2014).

He has conducted research at a number of institutions including the University of Tokyo, Harvard University, Georgetown University, Oxford University, Durham University, and George Washington University, and has taught at Xiamen University, China (2009), University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa, USA (2013), and Zhejiang University, China (2013).

He is Chairman of the Foundation for the Development of International Law in Asia (DILA) (2012-2015) and now serving as Chairman of the Development of International Law in Asia-Korea (DILA-KOREA) which is a new academic entity which is responsible for DILA along with the Asian Yearbook of International Law (AsianYbIL) and Asia Pacific Ocean Law Institutions Alliance (APOLIA).

He is a member of the Advisory Board for the Sustaining Coastal and Marine Zones of the University of Wollongong (UOW) Global Challenges Program in Australia, a member of the board directors of the Jon Van Dyke Institute of International Law and Justice, William S. Richardson School of Law (WSRSL), University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa, USA, and an Adjunct Research Fellow of the National Institute for South China Sea Studies (NISCSS), Hainan, China.

He is the Co-Editor-in-Chief of Asia-Pacific Journal of Ocean Law and Policy (APJOLP), the Executive Editor of The Korean Journal of International and Comparative Law (KJICL), the Co-Series Editor of the book series entitled Maritime Cooperation in East Asia, and the Associate Editor of Brill Research Perspectives in the Law of the Sea, all published by Brill. He is also an editorial board member of the Australian Journal of Maritime and Ocean Affairs.

He has authored more than 70 publications in English in addition to his more than 70 publications in Korean. His representative recent book publications in English are: The Making of International Law in Korea: From Colony to Asian Power (co-authored, Brill/Nijhoff (2016)); Asia-Pacific and the Implementation of the Law of the Sea: Regional Legislative and Policy Approaches to the Law of the Sea Convention (co-edited; Brill/Nijhoff (2016) [Book Series: Maritime Cooperation in East Asia, No.1]).

His representative recent journal/article publications in English are: “The Phenomenon of Multicultural Families and Korea’s Implementation of the Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction”, Asian and Pacific Migration Journal (2016) (co-authored); “After Whaling in the Antarctic: Amending Article VIII to Fix a Broken Treaty Regime”, International Journal of Marine and Coastal Law (2015) (co-authored).

His tripartite research on territorial disputes in East Asia was published in Boundary and Territory Briefing by the International Boundaries Research Unit, University of Durham, which include Towards a Framework for the Resolution of the Territorial Dispute over the Kurile Islands (Vol.3: No.6, 2001.9); Territorial Disputes among Japan, China, and Taiwan concerning the Senkaku Islands (Vol.3: No.7, 2002.9); The Resolution of the Territorial Dispute between Korea and Japan over the Liancourt Rocks (Vol.3: No.8, 2002.12).

He holds a D.Phil. (Oxford), LL.M.s (NYU, Minnesota, and Korea University), and LL.B. (Korea University). His research focuses on Territorial and Boundary Disputes, Law of Title to Territory, Law of the Sea, and International Human Rights Law.

Michael Sheng-ti Gau (Speaker)

Prof. Michael Sheng-ti Gau has degrees of LL.B. (National Taiwan University), LL.M. (Cambridge), LL.M. (KCL), and Ph.D. (Leiden) all specialized in public international law. He is teaching at Institute of Law of the Sea in National Taiwan Ocean University. Professor Gau has been legal advisor for and commissioned by Ministry of the Interior, Fishery Agency of Council of Agriculture, Ministry of Economics, Ministry of Health, and Ministry of Foreign Affairs on numerous research projects on law of the sea legal issues, negotiations in Regional Fisheries Management Organizations like ICCAT, SPRFMO and WCPFC, as well as WTO fishery subsidies negotiations, and Taiwan’s participation in IGOs like ICAO, OIE, WHO etc. For the past 8 years, Professor Gau has been focusing on outer continental shelf, CLCS and the South China Sea legal issues and Sino-Philippine Arbitration for SCS disputes, with publications in Ocean Yearbook, Ocean Development and International Law, Chinese Journal of International Law, Journal of East Asia and International Law, Chinese (Taiwan) Yearbook of International Law and Affairs, and China Oceans Law Review etc.. Professor Gau has been National Administrator for Taiwan Regional Round of the Philip C

Jessup International Law Moot Court Competition (2000-2012). Between 1998 and 2000 he was the head of legal department for the Aviation Safety Council of the Executive Yuan. Since 2004 he became ASC Board Member, and from 2012 to 2014 the Vice-Chairman. Dr. Gau is married and lives by the mouth of Tam-sui River in Taipei.

Lan-Anh T. Nguyen (Speaker)

Assoc. Prof Lan-Anh T. Nguyen is Deputy Director General of the Institute for East Sea (South China Sea) Studies and Vice Dean of the International Law Faculty of the Diplomatic Academy of Vietnam.

She is responsible for analyzing the legal aspects of the South China Sea disputes as well as other issues related to ocean law and policy. In this role, she offers legal analysis and advisory opinions to political, diplomatic, and security deliberations. Assoc. Prof. Nguyen often participates and leads Vietnamese delegation to track II and 1.5 conferences and workshop in order to engage other regional countries on the ocean law and policy.

Assoc. Prof. Nguyen received her Ph.D. in International Law from University of Bristol, the United Kingdom, and L.L.M. from University of Sheffield by the sponsor of ORS Award for International Research Students of Outstanding Merit and Research Potential and Chevening Scholarship. She is the former research fellow at the Center for International Law of the National University of Singapore and Japan Institute of International Affairs. She has research interests in ocean law and policy, maritime security, and the South China Sea issues and has a number of publications in these areas.

Zhiguo Gao (Commentator)

Prof. Dr. Zhiguo Gao is senior research fellow and founding Director at China Institute for Marine Affairs (CIMA), and has been a judge of the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea since 2008. He received LLM from China University of Political Science & Law, Beijing, China (1983); LLM, University of Washington, Seattle, USA (1986); JSD (Doctorate in the Science of Law), Dalhousie University, Halifax, Canada (1993); Post-Doctorate in Law, East-West Centre, Honolulu, Hawaii, USA (1994).

Judge Gao's professional experiences in recent years also include: Professor and Dean, Hainan University Law School (2014-present); Professor and Honorary Director, Centre for the Law of the Sea, Tsinghua University (December 2009 to present); Adjunct Professor and Doctoral Supervisor at University of Nanjing (since June 2013), China University of Political Science and Law (2012-present), Hainan University (2008 to present); Xiamen University (2004 to present), China University of Oceanography (2000 to present); Honorary Lecturer, doctoral/master's degree supervisor, University of Dundee, United Kingdom (1998 to present).

Session III: South China Sea Arbitration: Its Political Implication

Kaocheng Wang (Chair)

Kaocheng Wang is currently the Dean of College of International Studies and the professor of the Graduate Institute of International Affairs and Strategic Studies at Tamkang University. He received his Ph. D. degree of Political Science at the University of Pennsylvania in 1992. He had served as a National Assemblyman of the ROC from 1996 to 2000 and in 2006 and the Director of the Graduate Institute of International Affairs and Strategic Studies at Tamkang University from 2003 to 2009. His research areas are U.S. Foreign Policy, China's Foreign Policy, Sino-U.S. Relations, Asia-Pacific Regional Security and the Cross-Taiwan Strait Relations.

He published a book of 《Transformation through Engagement: The Clinton Administration's Foreign Strategy toward China》in 2005 and edited a book of 《The National Security Strategy of Taiwan under the New Cross-Strait Situations》in 2009. He has also written many articles regarding the Cross-Strait relations, the Sino-US relations and regional security in Asia-Pacific in recent years.

Email: kewang@mail.tku.edu.tw

Cell Phone: 0932033845

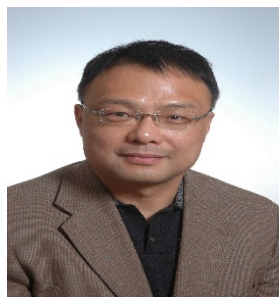

(O):26215656—2700

Jacques deLisle (Speaker)

Jacques deLisle is the Stephen A. Cozen Professor of Law, professor of political science, director of the Center for East Asian Studies, deputy director of the Center for the Study of Contemporary China and co-director of the Center for Asian Law at the University of Pennsylvania, and director of the Asia Program at the Foreign Policy Research Institute. His writing, which appears in law reviews, foreign affairs journals, policy journals, edited volumes, and Internet and print media, focuses on China's engagement with the international legal order (including international law of the sea and the South and East China Sea disputes), domestic legal reform in China, and Taiwan's international status and cross-Strait relations. His works has appeared in Orbis, Journal of Contemporary China, American Journal of Comparative Law (Supp), Asia Policy, and ASAN Forum, among others. He is the co-editor of China's Challenges (with Avery Goldstein, 2014), China's Global Engagement: Cooperation, Competition, and Influence in the 21st Century (with Avery Goldstein, forthcoming 2017), New Media, the Internet and a Changing China (with Avery Goldstein and Guobin Yang, 2016), Political Changes in Taiwan under Ma Ying-jeou (with Jean-Pierre Cabestan, 2014), and China under Hu Jintao (with T.J. Cheng and Deborah Brown, 2005). He has served in the Office of Legal Counsel, U.S. Department of Justice, as a law clerk to then-Judge Stephen G. Breyer of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, an expert witness in cases involving issues of Chinese law, and a consultant to law reform and legal education programs in China. He is a member of the National Committee on US-China Relations and the International Academy of Comparative Law.

Zhu Feng (Speaker)

Zhu Feng is currently Executive Director of China Center for Collaborative Studies of the South China Sea, Nanjing University. He is also Director of the Institute of International Studies at Nanjing University. He writes extensively on regional security in East Asia, the nuclear issue in North Korea, China-US military and diplomatic relations. As a leading Chinese security expert, Professor Zhu's recent book includes International Relations Theory and East Asian Security (2007), China's Ascent: Power, Security, and Future of International politics (co-edited with Professor Robert S. Ross, Cornell University Press 2008), China-Japan Security Cooperation and Defense Communication: the Past, Present, and Future (Co-edited with Prof. Akiyama Asahiro, Tokyo: Aiji Press, 2011), and America, China and the Struggle for the World Order (co-edited with Prof. G. John Ikenberry and Prof. Wang jisi, MacMillan, 2015). He sits on a couple of editorial boards of scholarly journals, consults independently for the Chinese government and the private sector, and comments frequently on television and radio and in the print media on Chinese foreign affairs and security policy. Professor Zhu began his undergraduate studies at the Department of International Politics at Peking University in 1981 and received his Ph.D. from Peking University in 1991.

Fu-Kuo Liu (Speaker)

Education :

- Ph.D., Department of Politics, University of Hull, United Kingdom

Current Position :

- Research Fellow, IIR, NCCU
- Executive Director, MCSS, IIR, NCCU
- Secretary-General, Association of Emerging Markets Studies

Expertise :

- Asia-Pacific Security
- U.S.-China-Taiwan Policy
- Cross-Strait Peace

Experience :

- Chairman, Research and Planning Board, Ministry of Foreign Affairs
- Visiting Fellow, Center for Northeast Asian Policy Studies, the Brookings Institution, Washington D.C.
- Visiting Researcher/Professor, Asian Studies Program, School of Foreign Service,

- Georgetown University, Washington D.C.
- Visiting Fellow, School of International Politics, Economic, and Business, Aoyama Gakuin University, Tokyo
- Adjunct Associate Professor, Graduate Institute of International Politics, National Chung Hsing University, Taichung
- Research Assistant, Special Group for International Fishery Cooperation and Proceeding International Fishing Dispute, the Committee of International Fishery Cooperation, the Council of Agriculture, Executive Yuan, Republic of China
- Junior Executive, Overseas Chinese Affairs Commission, Executive Yuan, Republic of China

Hsiao-Chi Hsu (Speaker)

Graduate Institute of Political Science
National Taiwan Normal University
No. 162, Heping East Road Section 1
Taipei 106, Taiwan, R.O.C.
Tel: 886-2-7734-1826

Cell: 886-912-723-820

Email: hsiaochi.hsu@gmail.com

Current Position

Assistant Professor, Graduate Institute of Political Science,
National Taiwan Normal University

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENT

Postdoctoral Fellow, Institute of Political Science, Academia Sinica	2012-013
--	----------

EDUCATION

Ph. D. in Political Science, University of Washington, Seattle, WA	2011
M.A. in Political Science, University of Washington, Seattle, WA	2007
M.A. in China Study, National Taiwan University, Taiwan	1999-2003
B.A. in Political Science, National Chengchi University, Taiwan	1994-1998

RESEARCH INTERESTS

International Relations Theory; International Political Economy; Chinese Foreign Relations

PUBLICATIONS

Journal Articles

1. "Domestic Vulnerability and Nationalist Propaganda: Taiwan's National Unification Council Campaign in 2006." Issues & Studies 46, No. 4 (2010): 37-72.
2. "Confucianism and the Idea of Sustainable Development: An Environmental Examination of Domestic Policy" (in Chinese). Monthly Review of Philosophy and Culture 42, No. 9 (2015): 107-127.

Book Chapter

Hsiao-Chi Hsu. "The Limited Role of Naming and Shaming: A Case Study of International Human Rights Campaigns during the 2008 Beijing Olympics." In International Engagement in China's Human Rights, edited by Titus Chen and Dingding Chen. New York: Routledge, 2011.

Conference Paper

1. "The Persistent and Changing Determinants of Taiwanese Legislators' Position on cross-Straits Opening." Paper presented at the Annual Conference of the International Studies Association, Chicago, 2007.
2. "Taiwan's Voluntary Compliance with the International Climate Regime: Adaptation or Learning?" Paper presented at the Annual Conference of the American Political Science Association, Toronto, Canada, 2009.
3. "In Search of a Scapegoat for Domestic Governing Crisis: Taiwan's Foreign Policy toward China under Chen Shui-bian." Paper presented at the Annual Conference of the Midwest Political Science Association, Chicago, 2010.
4. "The Diminishing Effect of Taiwan's Nationalist Mobilization: An Examination of President Chen Shui-bian's cross-Straits policy." Paper presented at the Seventh Annual Graduate Seminar on China, Hong Kong, 2011.
5. "Testing the Diversionary Theory of Foreign Policy in Minor Powers: A Comparison of Three Young Asian Democracies." Paper presented at the Annual Conference of American Political Science Association, Seattle, 2011.
6. "The Role and Limitations of the Naming and Shaming Strategy in Chinese Human Rights." Paper presented at the Conference of Mapping International Engagement in China's Social Rights: An Interdisciplinary Inquiry, Macau, 2012.
7. "The Limited Role Naming and Shaming: A Case Study of China's Responses to the 'Genocide Olympics' Campaign during the 2008 Beijing Olympics." Paper presented at the Annual Conference of Taiwanese Political Science Association, Taipei, 2012.
8. "Domestic Difficulties and Foreign Policy Orientation: An Investigation of America's China Policy." Paper presented at the 6th Annual Conference of the Association of International Relations, Taipei, 2013.
9. (co-authored with Szu-chien) "Diversionary Theory and the Case of East China Sea ADIZ." Paper presented at the Annual Conference of the Taiwanese Political Science Association, Taipei, 2014.
10. "Economic Interdependence and China's Use of Economic Sanctions." Paper presented at the AAS-in-Asia Conference, Taipei, 2015.

HONORS and FELLOWSHIPS

1. Chiang Ching-kuo Foundation Dissertation Fellowship for ROC Students Abroad
2. Henry M. Jackson School China Program Fellowship
3. Graduate School Top Scholar Award, University of Washington

Session IV: South China Sea Arbitration: Its Security Implication

John K. T. Chao (Chair)

John K.T. Chao, LL.B., LL.M. (NCU); M.A., LL.B. LL.M. (Cantab.); Ph.D. Law (Edin.), One of the leading experts of international law and diplomacy in Taiwan, is currently an adjunct professor of international law both at the Department of Diplomacy of National Chengchi University in Taiwan as well as Chinese University of Political Science and Law in Beijing. He was a guest professor at Tianjin University (2012-2014); a visiting professor at Georgetown University, Washington, D.C. (2001-2002), at the Dalhousie University Law School, Halifax, Canada (1994-1995), and at Rand Afrikaans University, Johannesburg, South Africa (1990-1991).

He is a formerly the Secretary General of the Chinese Society of international Law (1982-1990). He is also a former editor of the Chinese Yearbook of International Law and Affairs (1984-1995). His publications cover a wide range of topics on international law include “The Republic of China and the Law of the Sea,” “Legal Nature of International Boundaries,” “East China Sea: Boundary Problems Relating to Tiao-yu –tai Islands,” “South China Sea: Boundary Problems Relating to the Nansha and Hsisha Islands,” “Vatican Diplomacy: Functional, Juridical, and Operational Elements of the Vatican Power,” “The Development and Codification of International Law of the Sea: Legal Overview.”

Professional Awards:

1992 Medal of Merit, Executive Yuan, Taiwan, ROC

1995 Certificate of Merit, Cambridge International Biographical Centre

2002 Medal of Merit, Executive Yuan, Taiwan, ROC

Member of Editorial Advisory Board:

American Asia Review; International Journal of Social Education, Ball State University; Journal of the Law of the Sea Institute, National Taiwan Ocean University; and Tamkang Journal of International Affairs, Tamkang University.

Leszek Buszynski (Speaker)

Leszek Buszynski is a visiting fellow with the Strategic and Defence Studies Centre at the Australian National University, Canberra Australia. From 1994-2010 he was professor of International Relations in the Graduate School of International Relations at the International University of Japan. Prior to this appointment he was a research fellow with Strategic and Defence Studies Centre at the Australian national University. He was also a lecturer with the Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore over 1980-1987. He has published widely on Asia Pacific security issues and is co editor of the Routledge series on Asia Pacific Security. His most recent publications are; Negotiating with North Korea: The Six Party Talks and the Nuclear Issue, Routledge, 2013, The South China Sea Maritime Dispute; Political, legal and Regional Perspectives, Routledge 2014 [co edited with Chris Roberts]

Martin A. Sebastian (Speaker)

Captain Martin A. Sebastian RMN (R)
Maritime Institute of Malaysia

Capt. Martin A. Sebastian, Royal Malaysian Navy, joined MIMA in Nov 2011 as Fellow and Centre Head of the Centre for Maritime Security and Diplomacy. Prior to joining MIMA, Capt. Martin completed three years of Secondment with the Department of Peacekeeping Operations (DPKO), United Nations Headquarters, New York. He served in the Office of Military Affairs (OMA) as a Strategic Planner in the Military Planning Service (MPS).

In OMA, he was appointed as Team Leader for Africa Planning Team II covering West African peacekeeping missions. He pioneered the setting up of a maritime planning section in MPS and was appointed as the OMA Team Leader for the Maritime Working Group, which monitored planning requirements for the UNIFIL Multinational Maritime Operations in Lebanon and riverine operations in peacekeeping missions. Capt. Martin is credited for leading a team in the drafting of a UN Policy for Maritime and Riverine Operations in Peacekeeping.

He is country representative in the Council for Security Cooperation in the Asia Pacific (CSCAP) and Indian Ocean Rim Association (IORA) Maritime Security Study Group. He has presented in the ASEAN Regional Forum Inter- Sessional Meeting on Maritime Security (ARF – ISM MS), ASEAN Defence Ministers Plus Expert Working Group (ADMM Plus EWG), ASEAN Maritime Forum (AMF) and the annual Workshop on Managing Potential Conflicts in the South China Sea.

His field of expertise on Maritime Security is in Diplomatic engagements, Conventional Operations, Law Enforcement, Maritime Industry and Maritime Search and Rescue; and Humanitarian Disaster Relief from the Sea.

Alan Hao Yang (Speaker)

Dr. Alan Hao Yang, Associate Research Fellow and Head of Asia-Pacific Division at Institute of International Relations, and Associate Professor of Graduate Institute of East Asian Studies, National Chengchi University,

Taiwan. Currently, he is working for the secretariat of Taiwan Participatory Group to the Council for Security Cooperation in the Asia Pacific (CSCAP Taiwan) as Executive Director since May 2014. He is also the Executive Director of Center for Southeast Asian Studies at NCCU. In 2011, Dr. Yang was awarded SUSI Fellowship from the US Department of State in capacity of visiting professor of U.S. foreign policy at the Department of Political Science, University of Florida. As for academic services, he is the deputy secretary-general of Taiwan Association of Southeast Asian Studies (TASEAS), member of international editorial board of the leading international study journal International Studies Review. His research interests cover international relations theory, Asia-Pacific security, ASEAN regionalism, border politics in Southeast Asia, and China-ASEAN relations with specific focus on the soft power politics of Confucius Institutes. He published over 40 journal articles either in Chinese or in English, including those in The Pacific Review, Journal of Asian Public Policy, China Brief, Journal of Global and Strategic Studies, Asia-Pacific Forum, The Anthropologist, Journal of Strategic and Security Studies, Pacific Forum CSIS Issues and Chinese Political Science Review and so on. Dr. Yang can be reached via alanhao@nccu.edu.tw

Tiehlin Yen (Speaker)

Tiehlin Yen (Captain, ROC Navy, Retired)
Deputy Secretary General
Institute for Maritime Affairs and Policy

Education

Executive Course (2002-2), Asia Pacific Center for Security Studies
PhD Programme, Hull University, U.K. (2007-2001)
U.S. Staff College, Class of 1993, U.S. Naval War College
M.A., Security Policy Studies, George Washington University, 1991
Naval Academy R.O.C., Class of 1981

Working Experience

Director, Defense Research Division, Integrated Assessment Office, Ministry of National Defense, 2007-2009
Director, General Administration Office, Armaments Bureau, Ministry of National Defense, 2006-2007
Program Coordinator, Strategic Planning Department, Ministry of National Defense, 2002-2003, 2004-2006
Visiting Fellow (2003-2004), Royal United Services Institute for Defense Studies (RUSI)
Commanding Officer, ROCS Yue-Yang (DDG-905), 1996-1997
FFG-7 Program Officer, Naval Arms Acquisition Office, 1995-1996
Executive Officer, ROCS Han-Yang (DDG-915) 1994-1995
Instructor, Naval Command & Staff College, 1993-1994, 2001-2002
Missile Program Officer, Naval Weapons Agency, 1988

Publications

South China Sea Situation Assessment 2010, 2011, 2012, MCSS, IIR, National Chengchi University

A New Strategy for a New Era-Revisiting Taiwan's National Security Strategy: Taiwan's Defense Reform-what can be improved, MCSS, IIR, National Chengchi University 2011 ◦

Why the US Must Sell F-16 C/D to Taipei, 2011 Prospects & Perspectives, Prospect Foundation

Understanding the US Rebalancing Strategy-a perspective from the US force deployment in the West Pacific, Prospect Foundation, 2012

All Volunteer Force and Defense Transformation, New Taiwanese Culture Foundation, 2012

China's Policy on Maritime Disputes: How China Use of Its Law Enforcement and Armed Forces to Advance Its Interests, CAPS-RAND-NDU Conference, 2014 ◦

PLA's Force Planning: The Factor of Cross-Strait Relations 2015, CAPS-RAND-NDU Conference, 2015

The Yonaguni Referendum and its Implications for Future East Asian Security, 2015 Newsletter, Prospect Foundation

Chung Chieh (Speaker)

Ph.D., Graduate Institute of International Affairs and Strategic Studies,
Tamkang University(2015)

- 1993 Recipient of MOFA Taiwan Fellowship Grant
- Currently Assistant Research Fellow at the National Policy Foundation
- Office director for several different lawmakers of the Legislative Yuan between 1997 and 2015, with seven years (2001-2007) at the national defense committee and eight years (2008-2015) at the foreign affairs and national defense committee, a merge of the original national defense and foreign affairs committees.
- Having joined delegates from the legislature to visit the U.S. for three times during 18 years' work at the legislature. The visited sites included the Pentagon, the Capitol Hill, the headquarters office of the American Institute in Taiwan (AIT) in Washington D.C., the U.S. Pacific Command in Hawaii, Luke Air Force Base in Arizona, and Naval Base San Diego in California.
- Having flown with inspection teams from the legislature to Taiping Island on a military plane twice during the term of office at the legislature, one time in April 2012 and the other in September of the same year. The tours involved on-the-spot inspection of combat positions and living facilities on Taiping Island, a boat trip to Zhongzhou Reef not far away from the island, the arrangement of journalists to cover live-fire drills by coast guards on the island, a public relations event mediated via me and my office staff.
- Having discussed the South China Sea issue with relevant authorities multiple times during the term of office at the legislature. They included Ministry of National Defense (MND), MND General Staff Headquarters, Navy Command, Air Force Command, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Ministry of the Interior, Coast Guard Administration under the Executive Yuan, Ministry of Economic Affairs, China Petroleum Corporation, Taiwan, and National Security Bureau.

Field of research

ROC's national defense policy, ROC's South China Sea policy, PRC's military, coercive diplomacy, and PRC's coercive diplomacy

Roundtable Discussion

Ming Lee (Chair)

Dr. Ming Lee

B.A., East Asian Language and Literature Studies, National Chengchi University, majored in Korean studies; M.A., Graduate Institute of East Asian Studies, National Chengchi University; M.A., School of Advanced International Studies, The Johns Hopkins University, Washington, D.C.; Ph.D. in Foreign Affairs, University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Virginia, U.S.A.

Professor Ming Lee was Secretary, Section Member at the Government Information Office, Executive Yuan, the Republic of China. He served as Associate Research Fellow at the Institute of International Relations, National Chengchi University in 1988, and transferred to the Department of Diplomacy of the same university as Associate Professor in 1992, and became full Professor in 1998. He is now Professor of Department of Diplomacy, Dean of College of International Affairs of National Chengchi University, and Director of Center for Korean Studies of the College. Professor Lee's specialties cover Theory of International Relations, Cross-Taiwan Strait Relations, International Conflict & Crisis Management, American Foreign Policy, and Northeast Asian Security Issues. Professor Ming Lee could be reached at minglee@nccu.edu.tw

Edward I-hsin Chen (Speaker)

Prof. Edward I-hsin Chen, who earned his Ph.D. from Department of Political Science at Columbia University in 1986, is currently teaching in Department of Diplomacy and International Relations at Tamkang University. He was a legislator from 1996 to 1999, an assemblyman in 2005, and director of Graduate Institute of American Studies (GIAS) from 2001 to 2005. Before 2015, he was a professor of Graduate Institute of the Americas (GIA). His specialties in American governance, American foreign policy, international relations theories, globalization and international political economy, and decision-making theories of U.S. policy toward China and Taiwan. He has published numerous English articles since 1986. His recent English articles include (1) "The Security Dilemma in U.S.-Taiwan Informal Alliance Politics," Issues & Studies, Vol. 48, No. 1, March 2012, 1-50 (SSCI); (2) "Taiwan's Perspective of the U.S. Pivot to Asia Policy," The National Strategy Forum Review, Vol. 22, Issue 2, Spring 2013, 16-20; (3) "Taiwan's Leadership Changes: Implications for U.S.-Taiwan and Cross-Strait Relations," A Commentary for The National Bureau of Asian Research (NBR), April 16, 2013, 1-7 ; (4) "U.S.-China Trade Relations and Economic Distrust," The Chinese Economy, Vol. 47, No. 3, May-June 2014, 57-69; and (5) "How Has President Ma's ECSPI Become Part of President Obama's Rebalancing to Asia Policy," in Szu-shen Ho & Kuan-hsiung Wang, ed., A Bridge over Troubled Waters: Prospect for Peace in the South and East China Seas (Taipei: Prospect Foundation, October 2014), 21-44. In addition, he has published numerous academic articles in Chinese since 1986. Moreover, he has also contributed numerous essays to Chinese and English newspapers and periodicals including Global Times (China), United Daily (Taiwan), China Times (Taiwan), Apple Daily (Taiwan), Wong Bao (Taiwan), Ming Bao (Hong Kong), Strait Times (Singapore), and United Morning Post (Singapore). Furthermore, he has been very popular among TV and broadcasting programs., such as PRC's Fourth Channel of Central TV, Central Broadcasting, Shenzheng TV Station, Xiamen TV; ROC's TVBS, Era TV, Huang Yu TV, Choungtien TV; Hong Kong's TVB; Singapore's National TV; and UK's BBC.

Chih-Lung Tan (Speaker)

Chih-Lung is a navy veteran retired at rank of Rear Admiral in 2012. Since then, he joined PhD program in Institute of China and Asia-Pacific Study of National Sun Yet-Sen University and has focused his research on US-China-Taiwan relations. Chih-Lung is currently a volunteer and Deputy Secretary General of the Institute of Marine Affairs and Policy, R.O.C. (IMAP). His education and navy career background are as follow.

Education Background:

1. PhD Candidate, China and East Asia Institute, National Sun Yet-Sen University Kaohsiung Taiwan, 2012~
2. U.S Naval Command College, Naval War College, 2002
3. R.O.C Naval Staff College, 1998
4. U.S. Naval Post Graduate School, MS, Physical Oceanography, 1991
5. Naval Academy, 1980

Career Background:

1. Inspector General, ROC Navy Head Quarters
2. Director General (Defense Attaché), ROC Defense Mission in the USA, Washington DC USA
3. Commander, Flotilla 192, Mine Warfare and Salvage Operation Command
4. Director, Strategy Assessment Division, Strategic Planning Department, MND
5. Commanding Officer, ROCS CHEN-DE, PFG 1208
6. Commanding Officer, ROCS PING-JIN, PCE-870